CHILD FELL IN A SMALL DITCH

SEARCHING PARTY FOUND THE LIFELESS BODY.

Howard Faddis, Nine Years Old, Was Strangled to Death in an Irrigation Ditch West of Ogden.

Howard Faddis, a 9-year-old boy, was found dead in his home about 9:30 this morning.

The child had left the house to go to a field a mile away and in attempting to cross an irrigation ditch on a pole, fell into the water. The stream carried less than five inches of water and the fact that it was not deep enough to cause the drowning of the boy had not been rendered helpful, pointed to the theory that the youngster, who was subject to fits, was seized with convulsions, and being precipitated into the ditch, strangled to death.

At 11 o'clock Daniel McFarland, the uncle, was visited by the father of the boy, who inquired as to Howard and when told he had not been seen, a hurried search followed, resulting in the finding of the body at the point where the child had fallen.

FRAUDS IN OFFICE OF THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC
 A dispatch from San Francisco says: Extensive frauds perpetrated by a new method have been discovered in the freight department of the Southern Pacific company. Three men have been dismissed from the company's employ, pending an investigation of shortages which have occurred in funds with which they had to do.

The three men whose work is now under investigation are Robert Cameron, a freight clerk in the employ of the company 12 years; Gordon Glidden, son of Chief Steward Glidden of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, the Japanese steamship line, in the employ of the company 10 years, and a clerk named Marshall, for eight years in the employ of the Southern Pacific. They have been working under Melville C. Cleaves, assistant local freight agent.

No arrests have yet been made, as the auditing department of the company has not yet completed its examining and counting of the freight bills. The company has estimated that the loss to the company has been between $4,000 and $6,000.

The very method of the bold operation was calculated to shorten the period of their operations. The scheme was to change deposit tags when money was taken to the bank.

The embezzler would take a certain sum of money to a bank for deposit. Between the railroad office and the bank there would be a sum extracted from the total and the deposit tag fixed to represent the reduced amount. This process of saving was carried on for some weeks with considerable success; but on the return of Hardy from the east he looked closely into the workings of his department and found that the accounts did not appear correct. He set the auditing department on the scent of the missing coin.

Brigham City, July 9.—At the last meeting of the city council it was decided to let the excavation work for the new fire alarm out at day's labor, and M. L. Nichols was appointed as supervisor.

Mayor Blackburn, Councilmen Wynn L. Eddy, John P. Christensen and John Horsley were named as a building committee.

He also asked that the city grant the club the same concessions heretofore granted to the concessioners were granted and the matter of using the park and streets was referred to the committee on public grounds, with power to act.

An application for power, from the Ogden Cement company, to be used at its cement factory here, for the use of this city, was received, and also an application for the privilege of transferring the contract which at present exists between the city and the Amalgamated Smelter company. BACK FROM THE REGION OF SENSATIONAL TALES
 F. W. Reed, assistant forester, and W. C. Henderson, law officer, returned this morning from an extended trip of inspection into western Idaho. They visited numerous points of importance and interest and report the general conditions in that section to be very promising.

They also returned with a choice collection of fish-yarns of the Payette lake and fully substantiated by pecked noses and subterranean arms due to continued exposure to the hot rays during the past week.

Ever since the versatile Fitzpatrick of western fame visited the Payette lake a number of years ago, that vicinity's reputation for mermaids, long-eared fish and bearded reptiles has been undimmed. Fitzpatrick is the man who, through the medium of the New York dailies some thirty years ago or more, served up for the jaded pallets of the American people sensational tales of woolly rhinoceroses running wild in the canyon of Colorado, human-faced goats living in settled communities in northern Arizona, a tribe of pygmies who lived underground somewhere in the southern part of Nevada, a great horse-headed serpent which inhabited the waters of Great Salt lake, etc.

According to "Fitz," the Payette lakes were the abode of Indian spirits who held nightly revel along its shores by camp fires and muffled serpent which upon the approach of mortals, sped swiftly over the surface of the water and apparently disappeared into the sub-marine depths below. These wondrous tales attracted wide attention and several of the sections to be explored and afterward colonized by settlers from the east, have adopted the legends and still spin them to "the stranger within their gates."

MACHINISTS LEAVING OGDEN

ENFORCED IDLENESS HAS CAUSED FEELING OF RESTLESSNESS.

Southern Pacific Shops Losing Many of the Best Men—Repeated Holidays Cause of Unrest.

The back shop in the Southern Pacific plant was closed down again today and employees of several of the departments were treated to an enforced vacation day more.

As a result of these frequent layoffs, some of the best machinists have resigned and accepted positions with the Northern Pacific at Missoula, Billings and other division points in Montana. Others are likely to follow in the near future unless steady employment is offered at Sparks, Pocatello, Salt Lake and Ogden.

SIX WORK TRAINS ON THE UTAH DIVISION OF U. P.
 Superintendent W. A. Whitney and Division Engineer Maitland returned this morning from a motor car inspection of the Utah division between Ogden and Rawlins. Discussing improvements on the Utah Pacific, Superintendent Whitney said:

"We have six work trains and large forces of men employed in improving track conditions and closing up double-track work on our division. The work of the trains is working between Wamsutter and Rawlins and three between Green River and Granger, and the new double-track districts are being put in splendid condition. There isn't a weak spot on the division now that is not undergoing substantial overhauling, and this improvement work will be continued during the warm season and while weather conditions are favorable."

"Yes, business is good over the Utah Pacific between Omaha and Ogden in a considerable number of ways during the corresponding season last year, although fruit and coal shipments are somewhat lighter, and passenger traffic is simply out of sight—and without doubt greater than at any time in the history of the road. Every available clerk in passenger conductors is now in service and it is exhausting the resources of the operating department to handle the passenger traffic as satisfactory as usual."

HUGHES IS MENTIONED FOR SUPREME BENCH
 Chicago, July 10.—A Washington special says:

There is a strong impression in New York and Vermont that President Taft will offer Governor Hughes the first vacancy that occurs in the supreme court.

The tender of the appointment is contingent upon the coming of the vacancy at a time when the governor of New York can accept it. Many friends of Governor Hughes do not think he would accept the appointment should it be offered.

The determination of President Taft to offer Governor Hughes a place on the supreme bench is the immediate result of their several days of association at the Lake Champlain celebration just ended.

DIAMOND MERCHANT RECOVERS HIS GEMS.
 New York, July 10.—After he had been revived in a hospital, Samuel Lowley, a diamond merchant who fell from a New York Central train when it was going through the Harlem station at 30 miles an hour, fell in his pockets hysterically and asked if his diamonds had been found. Doctors drew from his pockets several packages containing $18,000 worth of diamonds, but Lowley said there were more, that he had two large stones in a small pocket of his coat.

While he was describing them, the police arrived at the hospital with the missing gems. A passenger had found them.

WANT ADS BRING BIG RESULTS
 The actual time consumed in holding the morning session of police court today was but five seconds, that time being required by Clerk Fulton in calling the name of Abraham Patitis and Judge Murphy ruling that the defendant's bail of $5 be forfeited to the municipality.

Patitis is a Greek laborer and he was arrested by Officer Crompton Thursday night and charged with drunkenness. When arraigned in court Friday he entered a plea of not guilty and was sent back for a continuance of the case, bail being fixed at $5.

Patitis was possessed of about $60 when locked up and he readily produced the bail required and secured his release, taking with him the balance of his wealth. This morning he showed up at the police station with a black eye and a doleful tale of misplaced confidence which he claimed had cost him $50. He was penniless but the police could do no more than extend condolence for the loss and a bit of fatherly advice about allowing himself to be influenced out of his hard-earned wealth.

BUTTE BAND WITH THE ELKS

MUSIC DREW A CROWD AT THE UNION DEPOT.

Many Special Trains Loaded Down With the Antlered Herds Continue to Arrive.

Antlered herds continue to arrive at Ogden from the north, south and east and all roads leading to the Pacific coast are spotted with special trains carrying the "best people on earth" to the grand conclave of good-fellowship at Los Angeles.

This morning at 7:15 the Montana Elks invaded the city in a special train from Butte, and almost before the train stopped at the Union Depot the famous Boston & Montana band was out on the platform rendering a superb musical program. This was continued for forty minutes and when the trainload of happy Elks rolled out for the capital city they were given an enthusiastic cheer by a large assemblage drawn to the depot by the music.

A few minutes later a special train crowded with Elks from Yankers, New York, arrived from the north, where the excursionists had been doing the Yellowstone Park for three days, and each and every Elk on the train was enthusiastic over the marvelous attractions offered visitors in the great national wonderland. The special pulled out for Los Angeles over the San Pedro route.

This afternoon two special trains crowded with Elks arrived from Philadelphia, en route to Los Angeles, and this evening at 6:35 o'clock the Chicago Elks will arrive at Ogden in two special trains over the Union Pacific system.

SUBURB OF CHICAGO SUDDENLY GOES "DRY."
 Chicago, July 10.—The village of Arlington Heights, a suburb of 2,200 persons, accidentally went dry last Tuesday.

It came about because three members of the board of trustees resorted to strategy when they found themselves in a corner. There was a sewer ordinance that they wanted to defeat, so they "discovered" they had business in Chicago the night of the board meeting, and their absence broke a quorum.

They beat the sewer ordinance for no business could be transacted. But the three trustees had forgotten that the licenses of the five saloons expired July 1, and that these had to be re-issued by the board or the bars would be closed.

Now the saloon-keepers are acting as soda-water clerks under the waterful eye of the "police force" who is in a dangerous mood because his salary has been tied up.

WEEPING WIVES BESIEGE MARRIAGE LICENSE CLERK
 Chicago, July 10.—Weeping wives and frightened husbands besieged the office of Marriage License Clerk Salmonson in the county building yesterday in a vain effort to learn whether they were legally married, or whether, according to a recent decision of Municipal Judge Beidler, they had been united by justices of the peace who had no authority.

Many women carried babies, while others led small children. All had read of Judge Beidler's ruling that marriage ceremonies performed by justices of the peace in Chicago since the inauguration of the municipal court were null and void.

Judge Foster, acting chief justice of the municipal court, declared that this law was plain and undoubtedly every marriage performed by justices of the peace, since the law went into effect, is illegal.

A special act of the legislature may be sought to legalize all such marriages.

SEATTLE LEAGUES ENJOY THEMSELVES AT SEATTLE

BURGLARIZED CLEANING HOUSE
 Thieves Got Away With Many Suits of Clothes and Several Hats, Worth $175.

The Elite Cleaning company's establishment on Washington avenue near the Ogden river bridge was burglarized Friday night and a large quantity of clothing, including hats, was stolen.

The thieves effected an entrance by breaking a rear window after an ineffectual attempt to force the front door. Care was taken to select the things which were most valuable.

About twelve suits of clothes were taken and a number of hats, aggregating in value about $175.

There is no clue to the burglars, but the police are hopeful that something tangible will be learned during the day as that quantity of plunder will not be easily concealed or disposed of.

YOUNG KAYSVILLE MAN IS SERIOUSLY INJURED
 Kaysville, July 9.—Howard Grant, of Kaysville, received a very painful injury a few days ago, when the load of hay he was hauling fell on his side, west of the Deseret Live Stock company's coal shed. He had driven the load onto the scales and was trying to turn around. After driving from the scales he made a short turn and in doing so the load of hay toppled over. The young man was thrown to the ground, striking his head. His left ear was almost torn away and he sustained other injuries. Several boys riding with him escaped unhurt. It is almost a miracle that some of the lads were not killed, because when the load fell it struck the top of a neighbor's picket fence.

NEW YORK AT PRESENT IS BASEBALL CRAZY
 New York, July 10.—Never before in the history of baseball has there been such excitement over the outcome of a series between two clubs as exists here, and the one topic of conversation is the possibility of New York being able to gain on Pittsburgh and Chicago in the race for the pennant.

Believing this series with Pittsburgh to be the crucial one of the New York club, in their fight to be crowned with Pittsburgh and Chicago as National league champions, 60,000 baseball-mad persons journeyed to the Polo grounds yesterday to see the double-header between the Giants and Pittsburgh. 40,000 between the inside the grounds, 4,000 being able to get seats while 6,000 had to stand.
